

SUSPENDED What trans-atheist religions try to achieve by not working, the documenting subject is achieving by fully working on his spiritual enterprise.

SACRIFICING The documenting subject sacrifices his human life in a manual effort to show a new way to a self-destructive and technology lead world.

REAL The documenting subject actually realizes his intuition onto a real place affecting the real people to come and not as an ephemeral fashion done with pride.

SERIOUS The fact that the documenting subject is serious in his realization makes others from cynical to scared.

POOR The documenting subject remains with his old rags and technologies in an increasingly polished and virtual world he attempts to bring back to an organic state.

STRUCTURED As it is my easier to build a structure and then the actual house so that the documenting subject has embarked is ambitious project with a defined structure although the way he can gain the social permission to realize it is the essence of a struggle between individual and the social.

WORKING Having understood his nature, the documenting subject fully works on its absolute manifestation, devoting his life to create a bridge back to its sublimity.

CHEAP The documenting subject always tries to act fairly and making others earn when he earns without responding to injustices and without feeling blocked by apparently expensive enterprises.