

The image displays a 6x10 grid of 60 small, stylized human figures. Each figure is composed of black dots on a white background, arranged to form the silhouette of a person in various poses. The figures are arranged in six rows and ten columns, representing the 60 hexagrams of the I Ching. The poses vary significantly, showing different stances, arm positions, and head orientations, which correspond to the symbolic meanings of the hexagrams.