

11195: "walking dozen of kilometers in paris with august from the west to the south and to the more trashy east yet finding not so much trash on the clean sidewalks with many fliers repeating themselves"

11196: "still in paris walking extensively with august in a most clean environment and finding mostly the trash walking in the black neighborhoods to the east of the city now walking for even a kilometer in the large sidewalks without finding anything to pick"

11197: "spending over a week in provence camping and visiting daily small and big towns but also finding the sidewalks quite clean even due to the strong night wind and having to travel back north to big cities like lyon and dijon to find some trash"

07122: "painting executed back to provence still having little time to spend in my study with livia to take care off and again keeping the surface simple and with few colors now sticking to layering a first hand with a second hand of a lighter or darker color"

02157: "a period beginning to dreams about babies affected by my daughter but still somehow dreaming of the mountains and also of all the driving i had to do as well as in the end getting affected by myrthe's work stress after traveling to provence and camping with august without really dreaming if not getting small nightmares about bad people"

13157: "in the heart of provence roaming around with little august and doing many small adventures like entering an abandoned abbey and visiting some old mines going from village to village as well as going on top of an aqueduct before making our way back and filming the conservative spaces of lyon and later the much more charming dijon to finally reach the flat and squary netherlands where i filmed mostly public spaces in amsterdam while myrthe was visiting with livia a friend there"

10109: "folk photographed at first in the netherlands like on of myrthe's colleagues and then going to the mountains photographing a guy on the plane and later two artists coming to beg for work as i started renovating the barn one of which completely changed by a family trauma and then also photographing the wife of my neighbour andrea and later going to murano almost getting on a fight in the ferry with the locals passing in front of all the tourists and photographing the son of my stepfather's cousin after i traveled to india tking many nice photos"

12127: "reading the news regularly even on holiday in france with august but only finding very polarized discussions and a lot of polemics about migrants till at last beginning to read the washington post and reading more about small casualties with several occurrences in nigeria"

07123: "painting executed now in the little extra time spent in my study with both livia to take care of and otherwise welding in my workshop but this time also not making the blue colour going in a spiral and only keeping the top surface"

01174: "a month looking after livia in the netherlands and getting able to give her the bottle but also doing my first welding experiments in my workshop and going for a week holiday in france with august before coming back and slowly resuming the welding but not taking so many pictures"

06082: "baking now quite some times from home to my welding workshop and back measuring my heart beat and some time trying to clean my lungs from the fumes and lastly going for a run with livia on the stroller"

06083: "still running with livia in the stroller but this time having her complaining and making her happy again running fast and also getting dropped off south of eindhoven and biking all the way to ivo's place in maastricht getting lost a few times but finally following the river finding some good energy despite the sun burning my skin"

18119: "experiencing a lot of wind in france in particular while camping in provence with the famous mount ventoux on our sight and coming back to culemborg also finding wind getting at last a bit better until biking to maastricht and experiencing strong wind up on the hills"

16123: "reaching paris with august experiencing quite cold nights in the tent and finally going to the warmth of provence feeling good and dry but then going back to holland experiencing the heat of central france to at last finding a cold weather getting increasingly very hot especially during a bike ride i took to reach maastricht burning my legs under the sun and having to consistently water the plants in our garden with no rain scheduled in the whole of northern europe"

05122: "a lot of walking done with august traveling to france and visiting lille and in one day walking across the whole of paris and later traveling in provence and walking many small villages and towns like avignon and arles but also the okra mines to then get back in holland and there walking alone in amsterdam and with livia both in utrecht waiting for her mom to finish to work and in culemborg especially this time going to my workshop and around the industrial area to search for metal and tools to build my vehicle"
