

COMPLETE Having refused to take part to the establishment and having followed his natural intuitions the documenting subject has fully developed his own spiritual character able to withstand all that is worldly.

REGULATING The various part of the project tells the documenting subject when it is time to invest on one or another manifestation.

POWERFUL The documenting subject attempts to finally find a way to settle his project in nature but ultimately ends up gaining a higher social credential building a small infrastructure to keep sustainable and perhaps one day succeed in his spiritual attempt.

HERMAPHRODITE Like the true spiritual beings the documenting subject retains both a masculine and a feminine side which the situations surrounding him such as an intimate nature and an alienating society can bring forward respectively.

PREPARING For the main part of his life the documenting subject has been constantly preparing to transmit his full soul once his body comes less.

SACRIFICING Not only the documenting subject sacrifices his time to the project but also the great part of his resources which in his attempt he is able to multiply.

WORTH Even though the documenting subject fights for something that will never be realized he makes the attempt worth by continuously documenting as well as reflecting the process.

LIBERATING While pursuing his discipline the documenting subject defies all the social dogmas captivating the modern individual and his operation is therefore to be considered a cry for freedom.
